

STUDY ABROAD COURSE AT MADRID, SPAIN

COLLECTIVE MEMORY, HISTORY, AND CONFLICT (NDR 720) (3)

WHEN: JUNE 14 - 22, 2014

This one-week, interdisciplinary, three-credit course enables students to address the various roles that memory can play in conflict engagement. Through lectures and visiting heritage sites, museums, and monuments in Spain students will understand the role of collective memory in conflict.

This course is offered in collaboration with Southern Methodist University (SMU) in Texas and Carlos III University Law School in Spain.

This course is available to Werner students (online and campus-based), Creighton University Graduate School students, students in the DNP program, students in the Ed.D. program, and alumni.

More information coming soon!

Faculty:

- Jacqueline N. Font-Guzmán, MHA, JD, Ph.D., Associate Professor at the Werner Institute, Creighton University
- Betty Gilmore, M.A., Psy.D., Lecturer and Director of the Department of Dispute Resolution at SMU and online lecturer at Creighton University
- Helena Soleto Muñoz, Professor of Law and Director of the Mediation and Negotiation Program at Carlos III University

Tuition fees will be the Werner Institute campus program rate: (http://www.creighton.edu/fileadmin/user/BusinessOffice/docs/Current_year_tuition_fees.pdf).

More information about additional costs coming soon.

If you are interested or have any questions, contact Prof. Jacqueline N. Font-Guzmán: jnfont@creighton.edu

Creighton University reserves the right to change, at any time and without prior notice, any provision or requirement, including but not limited to, itineraries, fees, and cancellation/refund policies.